Government Regulation: The Good, The Bad, & The Ugly

What are you doing differently this year? We need to practice and model tolerance, respect, open-mindedness, and peace for each other. Please see our for details. To entrust government with the power of determining education which our children shall receive is entrusting our servant with the power of the master.

Why Did The Approach To Teaching Math Change With Common Core?

I am a highly involved parent of a special ed student in the public school system. The federal government has an obligation to ensure that police officers in communities around the country are not violating the civil rights of the people they are charged to serve and protect and should be more proactive in ensuring that police agencies are properly training and supervising their officers before individual misconduct rises to the level of systemic violations of civil rights. Poor practice may be due to a flawed design or a clumsy user — or a combination of both.

After COVID

Could the owner really bring himself to let a person die under such circumstances? Category IV spending tends also to corrupt the people involved.

While boutique fuels may produce cleaner air, they have definitely fractured the national market for gasoline.

10 reasons Finland's education system is the best

Lack of good governance structures — often, large projects fall between agencies or between units of agencies and it is hard to achieve consensus on what each wants.

Racism and discrimination in health care: Providers and patients

I have seen it with personal experience. If the teachers would even try to understand, appreciate and work with parents, it would still not be a great system. Instead, decision-makers have only the insufficient and mostly incomplete information that comes to them through the political process.

10 (More) Reasons Why the U.S. Education System Is Failing (Opinion)

They are natural born creative geniuses, big picture thinkers and critical thinkers who are made to feel stupid so the schools can secure funding. The DOJ should take a more proactive role in providing guidance to local police agencies about best practices—for issues such as use of force, racially discriminatory practices, or officer accountability—before police department practices deteriorate to the point of systematically violating the civil rights of members of the community.

Adaptive social learning for systemic leadership

You might point to an unsafe drug or two or an unsafe automobile and in these cases there may have been a few thousand preventable deaths.
