The Aging Networks, 8th Edition: A Guide to Programs and Services: Niles

The Administration on Aging is headed by the Assistant Secretary for Aging. This is obviously the cheapest, easiest to implement and most direct method of promotion. These agencies coordinate and support a wide range of home- and community-based services, including information and referral, home-delivered and congregate meals, transportation, employment services, senior centers, adult day care and a long-term care ombudsman program.

After more than a year of research and exploration, health care stakeholders in the Kansas City region have determined that the best way to address these challenges is through an coordinated network of community services, developed under the working title of Managed Services Network MSN.

Area Agencies on Aging & Services

State aging departments are also responsible for making sure Older Americans Act programs are coordinated with other state services that benefit older individuals and they sponsor opportunities for the elderly to work with children and young adults. It also provides direct services to over 600,000 informal caregivers each year, who are struggling to keep their loved ones at home.
