17 amazing facts about Madagascar, the island it took humans 300,000 years to discover

One day Gerry was feeling rotten because his hips were hurting - he's had two hip replacements - so he was trying to sleep.

The Aye

Remarkably, 54 countries still impose the death penalty, including Egypt, Japan, Cuba, China and the US. Then we might go to the market in Nimes together and have a coffee in the square, after which we come back and cook lunch.

I remember sleeping in the attic, and I had a pet fruit bat, still just a baby.

The Aye

But we were married for 25 years, which is a long time. Like aye-ayes, these high-canopy-dwelling black-and-white lemurs are not easy to see, yet at around 10am, as the sun scythes through the treetops, they reveal themselves with one of the most striking calls in nature: a prolonged and ear-splitting whale-song reminiscent of a New Age CD.

MADAGASCAR

He came over to see our lemur-breeding programme at Duke University, when I was writing up my research.
