Vicious fight at Oklahoma City fast food restaurant leaves customer bloody and with stitches

The idea behind Batesian mimicry is that predators that have tried to eat the unpalatable species learn to associate its colors and markings with an unpleasant taste.

Top 10 Strangest Animal Behaviors

At first i thought the starfish were eating the jellyfish and that was what caused them to be washed up. Common predators of hagfish include seabirds, pinnipeds and cetaceans, but few fish, suggesting that predatory fish avoid hagfish as prey. The area around the spines is often brightly colored to advertise the defensive capability; predators often avoid the Sohal surgeonfish.
