Baird Callicott, of The Great New Wilderness Debate and The Wilderness Debate Rages On both Georgia , and coauthor, with Callicott, of American Indian Environmental Ethics: An Ojibwa Case Study. Through detailed analyses and historically informed recreations of Moravian communal, environmental, and religious soundscapes and their attendant hymn traditions, Moravian Soundscapes explores how sounds—musical and nonmusical, human and nonhuman—shaped the Moravians' religious culture. He considers debates ranging from national monument designations and bison management to gas and oil drilling, wildfire policy, the bark beetle epidemic, and the future of roadless and wilderness conservation areas.

Beginning with such well-known authors as Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, John Muir, and Aldo Leopold, the collection moves forward to the contemporary debate and presents seminal works by a number of the most distinguished scholars in environmental history and environmental philosophy. He is currently Professor of theology and Biblical Languages at Montana Bible College. The Wilderness Debate clearly rages on, and this is a fine and engaging representation of it as well as a constructive contribution to it on many levels.

It is refreshingly and thoroughly Scriptural. Nelson is an associate professor of environmental ethics and philosophy at Michigan State University. Strong and wide-ranging essays detail and deepen a real rollicking philosophical debate with serious stakes and thus will make this collection stand out and stand alone.
