Summa Theologiae TP Q[11] Of The Knowledge Imprinted Or Infused In The Soul Of Christ

Since that nature is supreme, anything intrinsic to it is the highest of its kind since it is identical with that nature.

Tertullian A Treatise on the Soul Chapters 1 to 28

And the breath of my Spirit became soul.

A Treatise on Electricity and Magnetism

Amity House, 1985 pp21-6 Bram, N. From these alternatives a dilemma arises which we will examine as follows: Christ who was born of Mary either did or did not take human flesh from her.

Abstract of a Treatise by David Hume

His science attests to the presence and operation of causally active forms at each level of analysis of the physical world.

“Active and Passive Potency” in Thomistic Angelology

Our will can always love and seek something greater than any finite end, even as our intellect is able to know more. But what if it be rather a recent one also? The major then is evident. Therefore everything which is in a genus is composed of matter and form.

A Treatise against Eutyches and Nestorius

Therefore it seems that the passions cannot draw the reason against its universal knowledge; because it is impossible for it to have universal knowledge together with an opposite particular judgment. Imperfect virtues are seen as those which are incomplete. Now sin and malice are contrary to virtue.
