This account is not entirely free of difficulties however. Theologians should desire a consistent point of view regarding God - that is, they should hunger for a reasoned and reasonable, non-contradictory picture of who God is and what he expects of the human race - a picture that makes sense both in the context of Scripture, and in the wider context of the Universe as a whole.

The Different Types of Theology

Sed futurus fuerat, sicut aliis membris, ita etiam genitalibus voluntate motis, non-libidine concitatis; aut certe etiam ipsa libidine— ut non-vos de illa nimium contristemus— non-qualis nunc est, sed ad nutum voluntarium serviente Contra Julianum, IV. These councils declared that Jesus was both fully God: begotten from, but not created by the Father; and fully man: taking his flesh and human nature from the Virgin Mary.

Mission Theology

Anglicans adhere to a range of views although the Anglican church officially teaches the real presence. The holy three are separate, yet the Son and the Holy Spirit are still seen as originating from God the Father.

Mission Theology

And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night.

Mission Theology

Scripture asserts that Jesus was conceived, by the Holy Spirit, and of his without a human father.

Introduction to Historical Theology

Do this in remembrance of me. Origin of humanity See also: , , and The Bible teaches in the book of Genesis the humans were created by God. I also agree with you about the Bible.

Major Principles of Puritan Theology

Philosophy, they thought, was to the Greeks what the Law was to the Jews—a preparation for the Gospel; and several Apologists agreed with the Jewish writer that Greek philosophy must have received much of its wisdom from. What I have thought needful to add, however, is generally relegated to PartIY. The controversies ultimately focused on whether and how a nature and a nature can co-exist in one person.
