While private and state-sanctioned concerts often featured the same musicians and groups, including Ke Zhenghe, Jiang Wenye, Lao Zhicheng and the Beijing Harmonica Association, Beijing Symphony Orchestra, and various choirs, the repertoire chosen for each occasion is decidedly different. In the early eighth century, Sunuzhe had become a musical piece performing in the Sogdian water-splashing event.

We cannot create a high-profile artistic product without building trust and mutual interest between the collaborating artists and institutions. This paper analyzes the relationship of pitch materials that play a structural role in the work, demonstrates the innovative law of pitch relations and the specific application in the work, and also expounds the ancient Chinese philosophical thoughts contained in this new relationship of fairly flexible and free pitch logic. These two music academies focus on talent development, particularly among young, highlevel musicians selected based on musical talent.

Her field notes in a form of diary are stored in her estateand have not yet been submitted to conscious elaboration. Pingdi Yao, whose identity has been transformed, continues to maintain and inherit the traditional characteristics of the Han nationality, thus forming the convergence of Yao and Han in the Pingdi Yao music identity. Prior structuralist analyses of Yilan and Youlan tend to focus as a rule on the ambiguous tunings and modalities.
