Supporting Young People's Health & Wellbeing

Unit assessments have been removed from National 5 courses, with changes made to Higher from 2018 to 2019 and Advanced Higher from 2019 to 2020.

BBC

Secondary schools in Scotland are also known as high schools or academies. A section is included which is concerned with promoting equality of opportunity for different genders and for students with special educational needs or from differing multicultural and social backgrounds.

Supporting Young People's Health & Wellbeing

At present, policy generally reflects a dual strategy of enhancing protective factors for health e. In particular, the Bill will support Ministers' aim of developing a system which is better aligned to the needs of learners and employers. A key aspect of Antonovsky's theory is the idea that having control of one's life and circumstances is health enhancing.
