Yet, has this theory yielded any innovative approaches for the teaching and learning practice that have increased learning productivity and improved the quality of the output? As such, we expect educational institutions to provide an optimal academic environment, as well as materials and conditions for achieving excellence of the learning outcomes for every student program content, course format, institutional culture, research, funding, resources, infrastructure, administration, and support. Very few studies cited in our database demonstrate that a certain activity or exposure acts by epigenetic means insofar as: They cause detectable and consistent changes in specific epigenetic marks; there is knowledge related to their mechanism of action such as a change in the level or activity of the enzymes regulating the aforementioned epigenetic marks; and importantly, that their activity on these epigenetic marks has been experimentally demonstrated in animal models to be required for their purported health benefit. First-level innovations with a small i make reasonable improvements and are important ingredients of everyday life and work.
