There were several babies in the group and Jacomé took his time estimating how old they were, placing the youngest at about six months. The only mode of transport through the distinctly narrow alleyways are donkeys.

Traditional Cultural Landscapes

We were so close that we could hear them trumpeting and grunting amongst themselves, cracking twigs and branches with every step they took. This means you are free to redistribute our material for non-commercial purposes. That night over dinner, as we sat next to the fire and reminisced about all that had happened over the past year, I couldn't help feeling so grateful that we live in such a beautiful country.
