Chapter 1: Assessing need and providing help

If this is the case, the local authority could offer to provide support to meet the costs of return, or provide support on a temporary basis while the family engages with a voluntary returns programme.

Section 7 and Section 37 Reports

An example of such a model is set out in the diagram on the next page.

The Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006

It has high aspirations for all children and addresses their short and long-term wellbeing and supports their transition into adulthood. A child will also be in need if he or she is disabled. The timing of this conference should depend on the urgency of the case and respond to the needs of the child and the nature and severity of the harm they may be facing.

Section 7 and Section 37 Reports

The report estimated that 1,400 children in Rotherham had been sexually abused between 1997 and 2013. However, practitioners should be mindful that a data protection impact assessment for any type of processing which is likely to be high risk must be completed, and therefore aware of the risks of processing special category data. Court Orders, including those made by consent, must be scrutinised to ensure that they are safe and take account of any risk factors, in accordance with Practice Direction 12J FPR.

Investing in New Zealand's Children and Their Families

The Ministry for Vulnerable Children, Oranga Tamariki became operational from 1 April 2017. Local authority action â where representations made under section 26 3 e , 3B b or 3C c of the Act 12.

Chapter 1: Assessing need and providing help

The Regulations specify some of the matters about which a person may make representations using this procedure. If they can discharge their duty in this way, long-term support will not be provided.

Briefing: section 17 of the Children Act 1989

If the child is removed from the home, the exclusion requirement ceases to be in effect. Order other than a final order - Where no final agreement is reached, and the court is required to give case management directions, the following shall be included on the order: a the date, time and venue of the next hearing; b whether the author of any section 7 report is required to attend the hearing, in order to give oral evidence. This may be a home which is controlled by the local authority or a working on behalf of local authority.

Briefing: section 17 of the Children Act 1989

Fact finding hearing A court hearing set up for the court to decide on issues of fact or allegations which are in dispute.
