Greenwich armour

Folded and tipped-in into a crown quarto original card wrappers, dark purple lettered and decorated in gilt, with a chromolithograph plate mounted within gilt border. Finally, Greenwich armours were often made in the form of a , which meant a large set of interchangeable armour pieces, referred to as , with the same design which could be arranged to form a suit for either mounted combat such as jousting, or combat on foot in the tournament.

Gale and Polden

Back wrap smutty from handling. When first formed it saw much eventful service as Marines, and served in the capture of Gibraltar in 1704, and in the great sea-fight of Malaga which followed.

Mrs. Frank M. Wooten, Sr. Papers

As this reprint is from very old book, there could be some missing or flawed pages, but we always try to make the book as complete as possible. Inner wraps age browned and lightly fox spotted. Fold-outs, if any, are not part of the book.

Souvenir album of the Tower of London; with historical and descriptive notes by Viscount Dillon. 1899 [Leather Bound]: London (England). Tower.: Books

Depicting a total of 48 medals and ribbons, each with faces and reverse. We found this book important for the readers who want to know more about our old treasure so we brought it back to the shelves.
