Languages spoken in Uganda — Which language to use on a Uganda trip

Languages spoken in Uganda — What languages are spoken in Uganda? Anbessa Tefera and Peter Unseth consider the poorly attested to be Nilo-Saharan, though unclassified within the family due to lack of data; Dimmendaal considers it to be a language isolate on current evidence.

List Of Uganda Languages Education

Languages characterized as creoles are spoken by more than six million persons in and around the Caribbean, by a variety of groups in West Africa Sierra Leone, Camerouns, Ivory Coast, Guinea especially, and in Asia India, Macao, the Philippines, as well as in South Africa and Indonesia, if the creole characteristics of Afrikaans and Bahasa Indonesia are taken into account. As an in-depth investigation into the 'returning home process', the study uses respondents' personal narratives to explain not just the behaviour or opinions of returnees but also their context within the transitory post-conflict period.
