Kappa carrageenan fluid gel material properties. Part 1: Rheology

With reference now to FIG. Each optical tweezer is moved slowly outwards by 0. For floating droplets, the TPCL can move freely and the two variations are independent, leading to the two scalar equations of the Neumann triangle projected onto the two axes of the coordinate system

The fluorescence attachment enables us to distinguish between NRBCs, PRBCs, and URBCs.

Reliable and mobile all

I appreciate any feedback :. The liquid marble was then rolled around on a clean surface to dislodge excess powder from its surface. The hour-glass connecting the two spherical caps has a negative mean curvature.

The movie clip can be viewed as Video 4.

Erythrocyte deformability

In one embodiment, a set of 3 ml syringes open to the atmosphere can be connected to 500 μm diameter silicon tubing, which interfaces with the microfluidic channel of the sample 304.
