An Educational Model for Preparation for Practice?

School of Nursing Welcome to the School of Nursing at TTUHSC! I have been interested in the nursing profession since I was a child, but due to my parent's financial hardship, I was unable to achieve the necessary qualification at school. While it is not the intention of this article to review the history of APN in countries outside of Saudi Arabia, a brief overview is necessary to contextualise how and why APN roles have emerged and their impact on healthcare provision internationally.

Some thoughts on nurse

Ever since I was young, I have always known that I wanted to work with people, to enhance their quality of life, to follow a calling, in which I could invest myself and get rewarded by the sight of someone getting better and to have the chance to maintain and improve their independence and autonomy.

TCHHS Student Clinical Placement Coordinator will provide the education provider and the placement facility contact with a completed copy of the Student clinical placement confirmation form once the placement has been agreed to and organised. Most nurses I met had an idea of where they wanted to work when they started their training, and ended up going into a completely different area for their first. The need to address legislation is urgent; formal regulation will only be possible once nursing education is standardised and the profession of nursing is regulated.
