

Jawlensky & major German expressionists - [exhibition] opening October 17, 1980

Leonard Hutton Galleries - ALEXEI JAWLENSKY

Description: -

-

Expressionism (Art)

Jawlensky, Alexej von, -- 1864-1941Jawlensky & major German expressionists - [exhibition] opening October 17, 1980

-Jawlensky & major German expressionists - [exhibition] opening October 17, 1980

Notes: Includes index

This edition was published in 1980

Filesize: 32.58 MB

Tags: #El #color #y #la #expresión #de #Jawlensky #estallan #en #la #Mapfre

Red Veil

Users may only reproduce a detail or cropped section of the work after obtaining written permission from the Fundación Colección Thyssen-Bornemisza.

Jawlensky, Young Girl in a Flowered Hat (video)

In 1971 the Kunstmuseum Bonn last showed Jawlensky's work in a solo exhibition. Jawlensky became affiliated with the German Expressionists.

Logo

Use for educational purposes is defined as the non-commercial and non-advertising use of images in presentations, lectures, school or university projects, and academic or research publications of which no more than 1,000 not-for-profit copies are printed. These discounts are not valid for previous purchases or on purchases of gift certificates, and additional exclusions may apply on special or limited editions.

ALEXEI JAWLENSKY

After emigrating to Switzerland in 1914, Jawlensky began with the series Variations, followed from 1917 by the Mystical Heads, the Abstract Heads and the small-format Meditations, on which the artist worked until 1937. Male Voiceover: That's right, so there is this notion of the artificiality of color, of light, of form, or representation itself as very much a part of this early 20th century moment, this expressionism, this deeply emotional expressive moment.

Related Books

- Biological perspectives on motivated activities
- Cambridge planning proposals - a report to the Town and Country Planning Committee of the Cambridges
- Lives of American merchants.
- Steve McQueen
- Dos veces México