A History of the 58th Surrey Battalion Home Guard.

Turner Donovan Military Books

Without 'home', the modern world as we know it would not exist, and as Flanders charts the development of ordinary household objects - from cutlery, chairs and curtains, to fitted kitchens, plumbing and windows - she also peels back the myths that surround some of our most basic assumptions, including our entire notion of what it is that makes a family. In October 1914 four armies were converging on Dunkirk. The idea that 'home' is a special place, a separate place, a place where we can be our true selves, is so obvious to us today that we barely pause to think about it.

[PDF] A CHATEAU OF ONES OWN RESTORATION MISADVENTURES IN FRANCE

Drawing on the journals of the men and women who were there, Winston Groom has penned a drama of politics, strategy, the human heart, and the struggle for victory against all odds. A long succession of French marshals and generals have testified to the extraordinary bravery of these troops, and to their good conduct under all circumstances. No marks in book, binding tight and covers clean.
