Achieving Gender Equality in Agriculture

In view of the declining average size of land holdings in India which has made agriculture nonviable for a majority of farmers, should contract farming and land leasing be promoted in agriculture? Indeed, the two were highly complementary both biologically and economically.

2020 Indian agriculture acts

And it concludes that the said reforms are far from being the silver bullet for these problems. From UPSC perspective, the following things are important : Prelims level : Cereals producer states in India Mains level : Paper 3- Encouraging cereals production in India to deal with the health issue Promotion of millet crops serves the dual purpose of securing health and supporting farmers.

What is Sustainable Agriculture?

In addition to the important role of government—as Ethiopia continues to transform—a well-functioning and vibrant private sector will be critical in helping the country enhance its production through investments in new products, services, and agro-processing to ensure farmers are incentivized to adapt new practices and capture value from their commodities. As a result, the country lacks storage facilities. The long-term solution, obviously, is hidden in gradually removing the MSP, and serious investments by the private sector in operations, that too quickly.
