What is new is the institutionalized fusion of corporate desires with public bureaucracy -- where the national security is synonymous with the state of Lockheed and Litton, where career roles are interchangeable along the industry-to-government-to-industry shuttle, where corporate risks and losses become taxpayer obligations.

“Nader’s Raiders”1968

So Powell set about, with his memo, to offer a detailed plan of public education, politics, and other activities to counter what he believed the activists were out to damage. It charged that the 1967 Wholesale Meat Act — once thought to be a reform measure — had succumbed to business as usual within USDA.

THE ESTABLISHMENT'S WALL STREET ROOTS Criticism has often fallen on the machinations of Wall Street bankers, both from the Left and the Right. David Zwick was a young Harvard law school student when Ralph Nader recruited him to begin work on water pollution. Otherwise, they wouldn't cluster around Washington like flies around a garbage can.
