Tensei Kizoku no Isekai Boukenroku ~ Jichou wo Shiranai Kamigami no Shito~C14

It was customary that only one person from each clan could become a Giseikan officer, and therefore, the Giseikan was provided with the characteristics of a meeting of representatives from the clans. The Imperial court Kuge government continued to exist thereafter as well, and sometimes made an effort, together with the Buke government, to solve political problems, but gradually lost its political and governing powers.

Kizoku in Europe and in Russia Feudal Kizoku in Europe was based on the Germanic system, and the system in the Frankish kingdom in particular. Entering the restoration period, the socially upper classes, centered on Kuge-kizoku and Buke-kizoku, were included in the class called , and then the system was abolished after Japan was defeated in the Pacific War, making Kizoku extinct in Japan however, excluding Kozoku or Imperial families. However, during this period, jito managers who were came to erode the territories of Kizoku with their military power as a background.
