All well data requirements are set out in the documents and PON 9b onshore. WSS says its approach to plugging and abandoning old wells is more cost-efficient and safer than conventional techniques, and wants to create 400 jobs during the next five years.

Oil and Gas Authority: UK Continental Shelf (UKCS) Oilfields

The well is now expected to reach the Eocene reservoir target in early-mid October. The organisation allows the industry to consolidate and improve its work in generating and developing the talent needed to sustain the long-term future of the UKCS and export learning internationally. In 2008, oil produced on the UKCS satisfied almost all domestic consumption 97% while gas produced in the UK met about three quarters of demand.
