Farmhouse

Cadwalder Jones, by right of his mother 100 A. Page 12 The Welsh Quakers were never able to settle Easttown and Tredyffrin with more than a minority of their own sect; the larger part was inhabited by Welsh Episcopalians, Presbyterians, and Baptists, and with an ever-increasing English speaking population. All other uses require written permission of the Tredyffrin Easttown Historical Society.

Architecture of Wales

The first phase was completed in 1882, but it was not finally completed until 1896.

Extensive use was made of decorative plasterwork and the restoration of the plasterwork which has been painted to show the original colour at in Conway gives some idea as to how this would have appeared. An example of an aisled hall house that has been studied in great detail and fully restored is in Montgomeryshire. Self-catering cottages in Cardigan Bay and West Wales Cardigan Bay, the great big sweeping curve of west Wales, is the home of one of only two colonies of Bottlenose dolphins in the UK.

Just west of New Quay is Cwmttydu, a former smugglers' cove. The main theatre, the Donald Gordon Theatre, has 1,897 seats, the BBC Hoddinott Hall 350 and the Weston Studio Theatre 250.

Pembrokeshire Cottages

The Farmhouse offers its own games room with a pool table, and a dining area seating 18, although all three properties have use of a shared outside games room with a pool table, table tennis, table football and darts. The upper-end truss is set forward from the partition to form a shallow canopy.
