Colorado's 9 Best Mountain Biking Trails

While Ned was a Durango resident at the time, the cycling opportunities in Durango drew Cindy from California. After graduating from college, he started working with Durango Parks and Recreation, helping teach mountain biking to kids. In the summer take a 45-mile ride on the traveling on tracks clinging to mountainsides between Durango and Silverton, where it stops long enough for you to have and tour the local mining.

Location

This tour offers out of the ordinary mountain biking, delivering cyclists into a backcountry setting far away from accessible trail-heads. Located approximately 50 miles from downtown, it offers a wide variety of outdoor activities and events that attract visitors looking to get out of town for the day.
