

Who is who: Philippine guerrilla movement 1942-1945

- - Chapter 10: Guerrilla Activities in the Philippines

Description: -

-

District of Columbia. Police Dept.

Educational psychology -- Congresses.

Education -- Soviet Union -- Congresses.

Philippines -- Biography.

World War, 1939-1945 -- Underground movements --

Philippines. Who is who: Philippine guerrilla movement 1942-1945

-Who is who: Philippine guerrilla movement 1942-1945

Notes: Bibliography: p. 458.

This edition was published in 1972

Filesize: 60.68 MB

Tags: #Wendell #Fertig

American Guerrilla in the Philippines

On September 15, 1945, the of the was reactivated, and its ranks were heavily seeded with Filipino veterans of the USFIP at all levels of command. .

History of the Philippines (1946

Congress was threatening to withhold post-World War II rebuilding funds unless the Bell Act was ratified.

American Guerrilla in the Philippines

After Colonel Thorp's death, a multiplicity of independent guerrilla commands began to develop throughout the provinces of Luzon.

Wendell Fertig

Navy, supplies and trained personnel had been transported by submarine to Tawi Tawi, Mindanao, Cebu, and Panay and put in the hands of the local leaders. Search Combination + S : Shortcut for search page. For their own protection, invading armies have branded the patriot franc-tireur and guerrilla as a bandit and a criminal in an effort to alienate him from his people and crush his efforts to gain liberation for his country.

Philippine resistance against Japan

Throughout the entire Philippines, the guerrillas managed to tie down a Japanese army of 288,000 troops, of which approximately 43,000—60,000 were on Mindanao, depending on the time period.

Related Books

- Transiti e approdi - studi e ricerche sull'universo migratorio nel Salento
- Three dialogues between Hylas and Philonous
- American glass, 1760-1930 - the Toledo Museum of Art
- Goodwill
- Gregg Story of Optometry