Inter Process Communication (IPC)

To specify the host, you include either a name that the client recognizes as a host, or an Internet address. The specification is maintained electronically so that the printed version is guaranteed to contain consistent and tested data that is free from severe name conflicts or random errors. What my therapist encouraged me to do, and what ended up working for me and my little self, was the following: 1 To validate her feelings

TCP Client/Server Communication

A value less than 30 defaults to 30. It connects to your data sources, aggregates, deduplicates, and normalizes the data, and delivers the clean inputs you need. CDA® and CCD® CDA Clinical Document Architecture and CCD Continuity of Care Document are specifications from the HL7 organization.

HealthShare Personal Community for Patient Engagement

The second client hangs if it issues a READ before the connection exists. Closing the client side first is preferable.

SICMLI (Integrated Communications System for MLI)

Different implementations of a standard may vary, causing problems when it comes to actually using it. The default is to flush the data. Instead, they tell InterSystems IRIS to flush any characters that remain in the buffer and send them across the network to the target system.
