Elementary

The remainder transferred either to secondary school or junior technical school at age 11.

Program Models for Teaching English Language Learners

Data are collected directly from survey respondents. Then, take off the flashcards and put them on the table. This could be called a two-teacher, or a rotation.

Program Models for Teaching English Language Learners

Once you have identified both the content and language objectives of the lesson, you can plan activities to accomplish both.

Teaching Language

However, the federal government has been a strong supporter of establishing Canada as a bilingual country and has helped pioneer the programs in the public education systems throughout Canada. Other schools use Cantonese as the language of instruction.

The Condition of Education

One practical consequence of this asymmetry is that all migrants who arrive in Quebec from foreign countries are required to place their children in French-language schools. Should you make language a priority in your school choice, or allow language instruction to go the way of the dodo? See if any of these willing parents would host an informal Coffee with the Principal event in their home.
