State of the Field: Sports History and the “Cultural Turn”

How does the Gothic heroine relate to its literary predecessors? Nous sollicitons des interventions qui portent sur la recherche en littérature ou culture numérique au Canada. In the spirit of Christian fellowship and intellectual dialogue, this conference invites papers, panels, creative presentations, and roundtables regarding representations of faith in literature as well as issues concerning contemporary stewardship of language and literature. It is awarded to a firstmerit and financial need with a preference for year student, with a preference for children of biology or history majors.

State of the Field: Sports History and the “Cultural Turn”

All accounts must show a zero or positive balance for students to enroll and select a room for the fall semester.

Picking up from our first conference — 2014's Returning the Gaze: Blackface in Europe — our second edition will continue to present a critical view on European racialised imagery, while approaching from a broader angle the departs from only blackface related themes, namely with a focus on resistance to racism and racist imagery. Hurd '48 Scholarship was created in 2000. All of these distinct categories point to a fundamental idea: by definition, the moving image dinamizes space and spatializes time, thus contributing to the changing perceptions of space and time.
