The Poetical Works of Elizabeth Barrett Browning from 1826 to 1844, Ward, Lock

Some fraying to boards and hinges but intact and complete. If you have one on a good book, treasure it and be sure to protect it with a plastic sleeve. His poetry has been the stamping-ground of theologians and the centre of prattling literary circles.

The Poetical Works of Elizabeth Barrett Browning from 1826 to 1844, Ward, Lock

Browning began writing poetry at age 13. Boards are slightly warped, with sunning to spine. Enough of the seasons,—I spare you the months of the fever and chill.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning: Selected Poems

Almost in sight—for, wilt thou have the truth? For that you should be still. I am glad, most glad, that thus I fail! No shade encroaching on the matchless mould Of those two lips, which should be opening soft In the pure profile; not as when she laughs, For that spoils all: but rather as if aloft Yon hyacinth, she loves so, leaned its staff's Burden of honey-colored buds to kiss And capture 'twixt the lips apart for this.

Browning Poetical Works Complete from 1833 to 1868 and the Shorter Poems Thereafter

My friend, Why should I leave you? The Old Curiosity Shop -1872 Pictures and Both in Great Condition. Think not I mean the advantage is with me. The book is in good condition with some wear at the top and bottom of the spine.

A “grand possible”: Elizabeth Barrett Browning’s translations of Aeschylus’s Prometheus bound

A spotless child sleeps on the flowering moss — 'Tis well for him; but when a sinful man, Envyng such slumber, may desire to put His guilt away, shall he return at once To rest by lying there? Life, how and what is it? This endeavor received a scathing review from C. This, throws himself on God, and unperplexed Seeking shall find Him. Since Chaucer was alive and hale No man has walked along our roads with step So active, so inquiring eye, or tongue So varied in discourse.

Browning's Shorter Poems eBook

This is too idle, Henriette! Though years have changed you much, And you have left your first love, and retain Its empty shade to veil your crooked ways, Yet I still hold that you have honoured God. I have a Les Misérables by Victor Hugo, printed by A L Burt publishing company in New York.
