It is based on the idea that 'all citations are not created equal'. You can also browse our complete , including conferences, symposiums and webinars. Smart Environments: Pervasive intelligence, ubiquitous computing, RFID and BLE, etc.

INTAP'21

What content can I submit? Extended and modified versions of the selected papers will appear in the special issues of the following peer reviewed journals. Chicago, : Manufacturing Technology Information Analysis Center. Moreover, we are interested to investigate the way of the modern intelligent technologies simplifying decision making and information processing.

Conferences

The aim of this conference is to provide an internationally respected forum for scientific research in the computer-based methods and technologies of collective intelligence and their applications in but not limited to such fields as green computing, ambient computing, ubiquitous computing, power computing, global computing, pervasive computing, etc. INTAP'21 will address recent advancements in the field of artificial intelligence that has resulted in a number of emerging fields of research such as Ambient Intelligence, Pervasive Intelligence, Web Intelligence, Bio-Inspired Intelligence, and many more.
