The Paycheck Plus program had zero impact on the employment of this group, but transitional jobs programs routinely increase employment of former inmates by 20 to 30 percentage points during the first year of enrollment. Geneva: World Health Organization; 2008.

Earned Income Tax Credit Overview

As with the distribution by occupation, one can surmise plausible reasons for why workers in many of these industries may be underpaid for the total hours they worked in a given year, thus bringing their implied hourly wage below the federal minimum. Also available to provide assistance are Area Work Incentives Coordinators AWIC.
