The Costs of Immigration

For example, suppose the expected rural income is Rs 1000 per month, and that real income of an urban job which is commensurate with his qualification is Rs 2000.

Education

Their proceeds finance mostly the motor vehicle transportation system, not a spending category generally considered to be public assistance, social service or income transfer. Hence both employment and output increase in the economy. For example, the company has shut down stores that have voted for unions, arguing that the reason for closure was related to finances rather than the union itself.

Model of Labour Migration and Reallocation

Displacement costs alone account for more than one-sixth of the gap between the Urban Institute and Huddle's 1992 findings. Some of these studies, though professing immigration to be an excellent investment, were ambiguous in their actual data. An attempt is also made to project the rural and urban labour force and migration forward to 2020, on the basis of the 2005 one per cent Population Survey.

Surplus labour

Stubborn high welfare dependency among refugees coming since the 1970s was recognized in the 1980s in Congressional hearings and by the Department of Health and Human Services. There is thus little seasonal unemployment in countries such as Taiwan or , which have much higher population densities than India, because improved irrigation facilities enable them to grow a succession of crops on the same land throughout the year.
