An innovation in the horse harness, with cheek-pieces inserted into the outer rings of the bit, is recognized in both the Steppe region and China, with the examples from China being earlier. Therefore the key word in this term is Zou Kuo. Kao gu yan jiu suo.

A century of Chinese research on Islamic Central Asian history in retrospect

Bone-horn cheek-pieces with three holes of different directions came from the West at about the beginning of the Western Zhou period, and their bronze imitation became the mainstream of later cheek-pieces. Manuscripts of Islamic sources are usually full of mistakes of points in place names, personal names and official titles of non-Persian or Arab origin.
