Our History

Also, the commissioning of playwrights to write for the festival commenced under his regime.

A History of the Edinburgh Festivals

The Tattoo was set up and run for charitable purposes, having gifted over £5 million to service and civilian organisations. Whatever, the EIF has made various efforts over the years to compete with the Fringe, some of which have been very successful. The latter two merged in 2019.

Edinburgh Festival Fringe

While it is somewhat facile to generalise, it is probably fair to say that, over the piece, the Fringe has a better track record on drama, helped immeasurably by the fact that the Traverse Theatre, apart from six appearances on the EIF, has been on its side of the fence. The following year, 1982, The Circuit became a prominent venue.

Edinburgh International Festival News

The first overseas regiment to participate was the Band of the Royal Netherlands Grenadiers in 1952, when there were also performers from Canada and France. By 2019, The Scotsman was once again the most prolific reviewer, followed by The Wee Review.
