LXIII, 1 ; and also: I have trodden the winepress alone, etc. . According to Jewish Law, it is the day that new sap begins to stir and flow within the fruit trees of the Land of Israel.

The Shekina

According to the ancient tradition of the Kabbalists, Kabbalah students used to gather together once a week, to give inspiration, confidence, and feelings of warmth to each friend throughout each other's progress on the spiritual path.
