We aim to create a workplace that celebrates the diversity of our employees, customers, and users. But new guidelines from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention this week already unraveled some of those plans. And why is the liberal, litigation-based, equal pay policy regime set up by the Gender Equality Act of 1996 much less effective than the neo-corporatist 'accompanying measures' to the Bilateral EU—Switzerland Agreement on Free Movement of Persons adopted in 1999 to ensure equal pay for workers of different national origins? Better still, he teaches his students to recognize policies and practices that are unfair to single people and to do something about them.
