Karl Rahner, SJ

Until his death Rahner kept with him the list of courses he had taken with Heidegger. To the preceding objection, then, Aquinas says that the alleged consequence would follow only if the persons were the same both in thing and in concept. Hence, death as a personal and spiritual phenomenon is not identical with the cessation of biological processes.

30 appointed by Pope to evaluate theological developments since the Council. However, many Christian theologians, apologists, and philosophers hold that the doctrine can be inferred from what the New Testament does teach about God. Kant reasoned that the facticity of this or that experience is formed within a grid of pre-determined schemata, and from this application there emerges consistent, verifiable and, thus, dependable knowledge.
