

Norfolk House, Lambeth: excavations at a Delftware kiln site, 1968.

Printed by Headley Brothers - The Kiln

Description: -

-Norfolk House, Lambeth: excavations at a Delftware kiln site, 1968.

-Norfolk House, Lambeth: excavations at a Delftware kiln site, 1968.

Notes: Reprinted from Post-Medieval Archaeology, Volume 5, 1971.

This edition was published in 1971

Filesize: 11.81 MB

Tags: #Lancashire #Archives

Chapter 2

Glazed wares were put where temperatures were most predictable. Thereafter the Castle was granted to the Earls of Lancaster. The paintings were a watercolour of Chad Hill Cottage in Edgbaston and a view of St Alphege Church, Solihull.

In remembrance of Brian Bloice, a true Streatham hero

Sir William Brereton then took the town for Parliament; Lichfield already had a Puritan garrison. Barnard, 159 , 194 r Thomas, : 160 i. Other Buildings and Features As previously mentioned, there are several possible workshop buildings connected with the Large Kiln.

Lancashire Archives

The uneven heat inevitable in a rectangular updraught kiln was used economically by the firing of different types of ware in appropriate places. . Sedilia and Window, Harpley Church.

Surrey Archaeological Collections

Related Books

- Formation of modern Japan - as viewed from legal history
- Finite element simulation of plane strain hot rolling processes.
- Gen Mao Zedong xue ling dao
- Tārīkh al-khayl al-ʿArabīyah al-aṣīlah fī al-Bahrayn
- Kitāb Maʿānī al-qirāʾāt