And this may be discovered from the very end and institution of civil states. As therefore every subject is interested in the preservation of the laws, it is incumbent upon every man to be acquainted with those at least, with which he is immediately concerned; lest he incur the censure, as well as inconvenience, of living in society without knowing the obligations which it lays him under.

Customs, though established by consent, must be when established compulsory; and not left to the option of every man, whether he will use them or no.

Husband And Wife

A man cannot suffer more punishment than the law assigns, but he may suffer less. The oldest of these now extant, and printed in our statute books, is the famous magna carta, as confirmed in parliament 9 Hen. NO changes have been made to the original text.
