The UCCS online MSN degree program has been acclaimed by U. All ACEN-accredited MSN courses are available online, and without clinical practice requirements, can be completed from pretty much any location.

Keeping Our Values

Students who are considering a faith-based school should take into consideration the values and principles of the school to make sure they align with their own personal beliefs. OSU has particularly become a leader in professional studies, including nursing. The Clarkson College provides the courses in the college premises and also through online.
