Why Certify? — ASORN

Job security will be high, as these nurses are even more in demand than non-specialized nurses, and eye clinics often have trouble finding qualified candidates to fill their positions.

Concepts of Ophthalmic Nursing

Nurses with this specialty may work in a clinical setting, a surgical setting, or a combination of both.

Become an Ophthalmic Nurse

Certification promotes national standards for optimal ophthalmic care.

Ophthalmic nursing

The course challenges you to expand your scope of practice and to gain a deeper understanding of the principles of ophthalmic practice. They are responsible for gathering patients medical histories and performing pre-op assessments to develop a better understanding of the patients health profile prior to surgery.

Ophthalmic nursing

At the very beginning of this course unit, you should negotiate with your clinical manager and personal tutor, specific learning outcomes relating to the area of specialization you wish to pursue in this course unit.
